Marcia Williams – author and illustrator

SELF-TAUGHT illustrator Marcia Williams developed her love of children's books while reading them to youngsters as a nursery teacher. Her debut book, The First Christmas, was published in 1987 and since then her output has been nothing less than prolific. Many of her works have been retellings of classic stories – from Noah's Ark to Don Quixote – which she illustrates in her unique cartoon style.

She has retold several Shakespeare plays and even donned the greasepaint herself to play the Bard in a production based on her books Mr William Shakespeare's Plays and Bravo, Mr William Shakespeare! Her life story is fascinating, as are her opinions of the world of children's books. This is an event not to be missed.
